Letter of Collaboration

I am extremely pleased to collaborate with Dr. Manasa D. J., Assistant Professor in Botany, Davangere University, Shivagangotri, Davangere-577 007, Karnataka, India. She has been working as one of the research collaborators in my research team since 2011. Our research collaborations encompass the areas of plant natural products, plant tissue culture, nanotechnology and biological activities. We have continuously published collaborative research results in journals of international repute.

Finally, the collaboration and idea exchange has been very fruitful and I am of the opinion that this will continue in the coming years that may result in publications, book chapters, organizing conferences and exchange programmes in the above specified areas.
